One feels in an enchanted forest as one drives down the oak-lined street approaching this most adorable cottage. Do not be fooled; this cottage has five bedrooms, four bathrooms, and just shy of 3,000 living square feet. Upon entering the home, your eyes follow the gleaming hardwood floors from the front door to the French doors leading to the large, fenced backyard. The first room is the dining room, which opens to an entertainer's dream of a kitchen: quartz countertops, marble backsplash, an island, double ovens, and updated light fixtures. The large living room, which features a fireplace and a built-in bookcase, is incredibly spacious, offering enough room for an entertainment area and a table for games each office is independently owned and operated.
